GULBENKIAN

To Valued Dealers & Customers

Six decades ago a young man had a dream to build the best competitive swim suits. He wanted to make suits that competitive swimmers wanted and needed, not what some bikini company thought would sell. In 1966 he made the first colored gum rubber racing cap, in 1977 the original swedish goggle and in 1980 the first cross back suit for competitive swimmers. Product development and innovation continues to this day. Over 75% of the company's product line wasn't made 5 years ago.

He had always made lifeguard suits, but in the late 70`s and early 80`s he witnessed a shocking trend in the lifeguard industry. No standard of care. Guards weren`t taking responsibility. No pride in what they did. Wanting to reinvent the guard industry he developed a line of equipment that guards wanted and could take pride in.
Today Gulbenkian Swim offers one of the largest and most complete lines of guard gear and medical equipment for guards in the industry.

Ten years ago he brought his only son into the business. Three years later his son seeing the need for medical product started a medical division, which is now flourishing. His son serves as head of the medical division and national sales manager of the company.

That young man with a dream happened to be me...

With a team of dedicated people we always take pride in doing it right - in servicing the customer the way we wish to be served. When we make a mistake we correct it immediately. This is a true family business. Behind every Gulbenkian product there is Gulbenkian. Always has been, always will be...

We are not in it for a quick buck, but for a long-term relationship with our customers. In celebration of our 46th year we have come out with our largest and most complete catalog ever. We tried to make it easy to read and to answer your questions before you ask them. Finally this catalog is dedicated to my mentor and a great humanitarian - the former swim coach at the Colgate university- Mark Randall. Without his love, help and understanding I would not be in this business today.

Rescue Tubes

Phone: 1-800-431-2586; in CT: (203) 790-0800

All Gulbenkian rescue tubes are made of the highest quality closed cell foam to resist erosion. They are individually hand dipped three times instead of the customary two to ensure proper adhering of the vinyl coating and extend the useful life of the equipment dramatically. When buying rescue equipment, the most important criteria are quality and performance. American Red Cross chapters and Guards for waterparks, oceans and pools throughout the world use our rescue tubes. The tubes include standard printing of GUARD. See special notes by each tube for quantities and more information.

This year, we are offering splash tubes for a themed look.

EG spineboard

E.G. SPINEBOARD 121010

The E.G. Spineboard is fast becoming a standard in the lifesaving industry throughout the world. As the first plastic aquatic spineboard, its average life of 6-10 years (with maintenance of straps and velcro) represents a significant improvement over wood boards that often last just 3-5 years. Secondly, blood-born pathogens that soak into wood boards may only be removed by refinishing, while with a plastic board you can use a strong antiseptic cleaner. Thirdly, the E.G. board holds a load weight over 2,000 lbs., far superior to any other aquatic or wooden board and matched by very few plastic boards The average load weight on a wooden board, roughly around 600 lbs., weakens with age, so after 4 years in a swimming pool environment, it may be reduced to 350 lbs. Our plastic board will retain its strength. Fourth, our bookend head blocks are the strongest in the industry. The blocks on most other aquatic board break if the board falls over, and sometimes need to be replaced as often as twice a season. Finally, our company has invented a new tail feature to keep the board stable when the board is in the water with the head area near the pool edge. By placing the tail on the pool deck and kneeling on it, the board remains steady. A first in the industry, the feature is already becoming popular with Training agencies and Guards. We highly recommend it.

With the E.G. spineboard, you can rest assured you have purchased the finest aquatic board in the industry.
